FALL CNE PREP COURSE

Keynote Speaker: Diane M. Billings Ed.D, RN, ANEF, FAAN

Diane Billings is Chancellors' Professor Emeritus at Nursing at Indiana University School of Nursing, Indianapolis, IN where she was the Associate Dean for Teaching, Learning and Information Resources and developed and taught the masters/doctoral level Teacher Education Certificate courses. She is currently a consultant in nursing education and the co-editor of the award winning Teaching in Nursing, and the co-editor of the Lippincott's Q and A Review for NCLEX-RN. She is the recipient of the Sigma Theta Tau International Founders Award for Excellence in Teaching, the Award for Outstanding Leadership in Nursing Education from the National League for Nursing, and is a Living Legend in the American Academy of Nursing. She serves on boards and tasks forces for several schools of nursing and nursing organizations and has been a mentor in three Sigma Mentored Leadership Academies.

As a consultant in nursing education, Dr. Billings works with faculty groups to integrate best practices in teaching and learning. Dr. Billings is the author of three award winning nursing textbooks and has published articles in nursing and higher education journals in the area of using information technology to support teaching and learning.

Course Description

This course is designed to help potential candidates assess their level of readiness and to prepare to take the NLN Certified Nurse Educator exam. The course includes a review of each of the 6 nurse educator competencies and the content contained in the test blueprint. The speaker will also provide information about the CNE examination eligibility requirements, registration and scheduling process as well as the certification renewal process.

Learning Objectives:

- ◆ Discuss the implications of certification for nursing faculty.
- ◆ Analyze the detailed CNE test blueprint.
- ◆ Identify the eligibility requirements, registration process and scheduling process for the CNE examination.
- ◆ Review the content of the CNE examination blueprint and major concepts for each competency.
